ForAccess.com to Exhibit at Million Dollar Action Plan Virtual Event

San Antonio, TX – On April 27, 2007, women business owners will declare their intention to becoming million dollar companies in five years or less at the Walk the Walk for Financial Freedom Growth Summit. Experts in the fields of marketing, PR, and sales, will teach success strategies designed to accelerate business growth.

What makes this Summit different from other conferences is that women don't need to leave home. By harnessing the power of the Internet, they actively participate live and in real time from the comfort of their homes.

ForAccess.com has been asked to participate in this virtual event. "We're pleased to participate in this event as it recognizes the strength and capabilities of today's women, both as individuals and as entrepreneurs," said ForAccess.com's president Jeanne Fuller.

"Less than five percent of women business owners generate a million dollars in revenue," said Cynthia Renee Frazier, Co-founder of the Energy Tour Cafe and sponsor of the Growth Summit. "Using technology to its fullest will go a long way to closing that gap," she continued.

Hosting a virtual tradeshow and seminar offers all of the elements of a traditional conference—exhibits, keynote speakers, break out sessions, and power networking. This event is attracting not only women business owners in the United States, but in Canada, France, Australia, Italy, and more, to come together and talk about business growth and how to make a difference in the world.

According to statistics, 74 percent of all millionaires in America became millionaires through entrepreneurship and a new millionaire is created every 58 hours. Additionally, 73 percent of women business owners, compared to 60 percent of men, who generate a million dollars in revenue, started their companies from scratch rather than inherit or purchase an existing business.
